1. Write a cause-and-effect paragraph of approximately 200 words on the topic, 'The Effects of Online Learning on University Students.'
2. Write a cause-and-effect paragraph explaining why you chose your major or job. Focus on the causes that influenced your decision. Use signal words such as first, second, and third to introduce each cause. Include supporting details or examples for each cause whenever possible. Your paragraph should have a clear topic sentence and a concluding sentence.
3. Study the following graphs and write a 150–200-word paragraph describing and interpreting the unemployment rate in Sri Lanka from 2006 to 2011. Use appropriate language to describe trends, increases, decreases, fluctuations, and peak figures.

¹The horizontal axis shows the years from 2006 to 2011, whereas the vertical axis shows the rate of unemployment in Sri Lanka—a percentage out of 100. ²Throughout the five-year period, the unemployment rate fluctuated. ³In the third quarter of 2006, the rate fell dramatically (from 7.2% to 6.4%—see bar graph below), followed by a slight fluctuation. ⁴Again in 2007, the rate increased slightly, followed by a dramatic decrease in the fourth quarter. ⁵In 2008 and the first half of 2009, the rate remained steady. ⁶In the third quarter of 2009, the rate shot up to a peak of 6.8%, then fell dramatically in the fourth quarter. ⁷After 2008, the unemployment rate showed a continuous decrease despite a slight rise in the third quarter of 2010.
